

DEMOCRATS SUGGEST NAMES TO GO ON TICKET FOR COUNTY ELECTION

Rice, Tedford, Beswick, Barnes, Nunn, Pixley and Leck Urged to Run

James S. Rice for assemblyman, Ed. Tedford for county auditor, B. F. Beswick for county superintendent of schools, Dr. H. E. W. Barnes for coroner and public administrator, J. A. Nunn for supervisor of the First district, D. C. Pixley for supervisor of the Fourth district and Jasper Leck for supervisor of the Fifth district—these men were suggested as candidates by the conference of Democrats held at the city hall Saturday afternoon. The chances are that most of them will answer the call of their party and will get into harness for the campaign.

Between fifty and sixty Democrats from all over the county attended the conference. The meeting was called to order by Dr. H. S. Gordon, chairman of the Democratic county central committee. Dr. H. W. Head was made chairman of the meeting and W. E. Baker secretary.

The situation was talked over, the object of the meeting being to go as far as possible toward getting out a full county ticket.

The avowed candidates were given the endorsement of the conference. Those who are avowed candidates are H. C. Head for district attorney, J. C. Joplin for treasurer, Theo. Lacy for sheriff, C. E. Jackson and R. S. Dickinson for constables of Santa Ana township, and James Fullerton for justice of the peace of Orange township.

James S. Rice of Tustin, was suggested as a candidate for the assembly. Later in the afternoon Rice arrived at the meeting and was told that he had been suggested as a candidate for the office. He said that he had not given the matter consideration, but that he would think it over and give an answer shortly.

B. F. Beswick was talked of as a strong man for county superintendent of schools. Prof. Beswick stated that if he concluded to run he would make as hard a fight for the position as he could. He did not say that he would enter the race, but intimated that if the party felt that he should run he would run and fight to win. Those who attended the conference are confident that Beswick will be the Democratic nominee.

The name of Dr. H. E. W. Barnes was suggested for coroner and public administrator. Dr. Barnes was sent for and the proposition put up to him. Individual Democrats had evidently already been talking to Dr. Barnes about the matter, and in his talk to the conference he stated that if it was the party's desire that he run, he would run and do his best to hold a "political inquest on the other fellow."

The names of three supervisorial candidates were suggested—J. A. Nunn of Santa Ana, D. C. Pixley of Orange and Jasper Leck of Tustin. The representatives of the Orange district stated that there is a remarkably strong sentiment there that Pixley run. They said Pixley is now on his way home from Honolulu. They said many Republicans are anxious to have Pixley run, and that he would receive an overwhelming vote if he entered the race.

No candidates were suggested for clerk, assessor, recorder and tax collector. A committee of five, M. Nisson of Santa Ana, Sterling Price of Bolsa, G. B. Miller of Buena Park, Ray Billelsey of Villa Park and Hugh Day of Tustin, was chosen to give notice of the conference's action and to keep in touch with the different candidates named by the conference, and urge them to enter the arena. This committee was also empowered to look over the field for available candidates for other county and township offices.

A Twenty-five Cent Ad. In The Register Sells Two Houses Within Two Hours

Up to about a week ago A. E. Jefferson owned two houses located at 641 and 643 North Birch street. On the afternoon of March 24th Mr. Jefferson called at the Register office and inserted the following advertisement:
FOR RENT OR SALE—6 room cottage, on rental or installment plan. 643 Birch St., A. E. Jefferson.

Returning home in the evening Mr. Jefferson found his Register in his yard and turned to the classified column to read his ad. While so engaged W. O. Coddling called to answer to the ad, and within less than 30 minutes he had purchased the house.

A few minutes later Harry Hayes of the Santa Ana laundry called in answer to the advertisement and was told that he was a few minutes late. However he and Mr. Jefferson got to talking and finally it transpired that the latter owned the house adjoining the one he had just sold. To make a long story short, half an hour's negotiations resulted in the sale of the second house to Mr. Hayes.

Thus a 25c classified ad in the Register sold two houses within less than two hours after the paper went to press.

Col. Roosevelt and Kermit Received by King—Wife and Daughter to be Presented to Queen

ROME, April 4.—"The Vatican incident, so far as I am concerned, is closed," said Col. Roosevelt today. "The course I followed was the only one open to me."

Foreign officials here who have been interviewed almost unanimously take the colonel's view as the only legitimate one. None of the high dignitaries in the Catholic church would issue a public statement today but all seem to censure Col. Roosevelt for not quietly accepting the Vatican position.

PRESENTED TO KING ACCOMPANIED BY KERMIT

ROME, April 4.—King Victor Emmanuel today granted a 45-minute audience to Col. Roosevelt. The king of the audience occasioned general surprise, it being the longest King Victor ever granted except in political matters. The nature of the conversation was not made public, but it is generally supposed that the Vatican incident was the main topic. Kermit was also granted an audience by the king.

Following the visit of the Roosevelts, King Victor said: "They are a most interesting pair. I have always regarded Mr. Roosevelt as among the world's greatest men, and his visit has served to strengthen my belief."

After leaving the palace Roosevelt was driven to the luncheon, where he placed wreaths on the tombs of King Victor Humbert and Emmanuel. Great crowds lined the streets and thousands witnessed the wreath placing. Upon his return to the hotel he spent two hours over his mail.

Roosevelt will have an unprecedented honor accorded him tomorrow when the king's carriage will call and the king will take him driving through the city. Mrs. Roosevelt and Ethel are preparing to be presented to the queen tonight.

It was announced today that King Victor Emmanuel will give a dinner in honor of Col. Roosevelt, and that Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit and Ethel, will also be guests. It is hinted that the affair will be the most elaborate

Suddenly the balloon fell into the sea with its four occupants, Del Bruesek, pilot; Herr Sommerhardt, Herr Bendohn and Hein. TO SERVE BANQUET IN HIS DAIRY BARN

J. T. Raitt Preparing for Barbecue on Thursday at 5 O'clock

J. T. Raitt, manager of the Santa Ana Jersey Farm, is going to banquet several scores of people at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon of this week. Of course, anyone can give a banquet, but no other institution could give the kind of banquet Raitt has in mind. It is to be served in his dairy barn in an open space between the rows of cattle.

It is a bold undertaking, and without the full knowledge that his barn has every modern appliance for keeping it absolutely clean all the time, Mr. Raitt would not dare do what he will do Thursday afternoon. City officials and business men of Santa Ana and Orange, county officials and physicians are to be invited to the barbecue.

WANTS TO SEND INSPECTOR NORTH

Club Would Like Him to See
How European Foul Brood
Is Fought

APIARISTS AGAINST UTAH'S WINTERING

Beemen Propose Preparing Fine Honey Exhibits for the Carnival

The Orange County Beekeepers' Club wants County Bee Inspector J. E. Pleasants to take a trip to the San Joaquin Valley to visit the apiarists that are infected with the European foul brood. At a meeting of the club Saturday afternoon a committee was appointed to go before the Board of Supervisors to ask that the county pay the inspector's fare on the trip, the club to pay all other expenses.

The club realizes that the European foul brood is the greatest menace to the bee business there is on the coast. The disease has been kept confined to a few counties, but it will spread unless great care is used. Orange county has passed an ordinance providing ample inspection of bees shipped into the county.

While Inspector Pleasants has read all he could find and heard all he could hear of the European foul brood, he has never seen any of it, fortunately it having been a great rarity in California.

The Beekeepers' Club wants Pleasants to have first hand information, not so much that he may recognize the European foul brood, for there is not the slightest question but what he would were it to appear in any of the hives that are shipped in, but that he may know just how the apiarists go about fighting the pest. The apiarists here believe that forewarned is forearmed.

A matter of state-wide importance was brought before the club Saturday by J. C. Joplin. He said that Utah apiarists, to a large extent, are shipping their bees to California for wintering, returning them to Utah for the summer. He said that it has been learned that Utah is badly infected with the European foul brood. He believes it would be well to have this state quarantined against Utah shipments. Joplin was selected as a committee to take the matter up with Prof. Benton, the state university expert on bee culture.

The club members have agreed to arrange for producing some fine honey exhibits for the 1910 Carnival of Products. J. C. Joplin said that there are a number of jars owned by the county, formerly used by the county for processing fruit for exhibition purposes, but which are now useless for that purpose owing to defects. These jars could be passed out among the different apiarists, and could be so attached to bee stands that the comb honey could be made within the jar, and when the jar is filled it can be removed, and closed. There seems to be no better method of exhibiting comb honey than the manner proposed. Joplin will go before the supervisors and request permission to use the jars for the purpose.

HAS PASSED $10,000 MARK

Orange Postal Receipts Puts Thriving City Into Free
Delivery Class

Orange News: The postal receipts of the Orange post office passed the $10,000 mark for the fiscal year ending March 31st, and became eligible for carrier service in the city. The coveted mark was passed by just $13.88 as the year's receipts totaled exactly $10,043.88. Application may now be made for city carriers and city delivery, and it is probable that at least at the end of another year the gray uniformed men of Uncle Sam will be delivering mail to the doors of the townspeople as well as to the rural residents.

The receipts for the year show about $2000 better for the year than those of the preceding year. They grew steadily each quarter of the year and it was assured near the end of the year that the $10,000 mark would be passed. The receipts by quarters are:

Apr. 1 to June 30, '09.....$2089.25
July 1 to Sept. 30, '09.....2152.74
Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, '09.....2842.80
Jan. 1 to Mar. 31, '10.....2959.09

$10,043.88

Postmaster Edwards has been advised by department officials that city service of carriers is seldom allowed the first year of attaining that class, as it is ascertained the next year whether the receipts will hold up. Application for carriers may therefore not be made this year, though next year it will be made and will undoubtedly be granted.

Anaheim has also successfully passed the $10,000 mark by about the same margin. The postal receipts of the two towns have for several years ran almost identically.

Light in a Cow Stables

The light in a cow stable should come from the rear of the cows, so the milkers can see to clean the cows properly for milking. This arrangement is accomplished in modern stables by building them thirty-four to thirty-six feet wide and having two rows of cows facing toward a feeding alley in the center.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicine—for all the troubles entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz: pure, refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by our rising heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the Golden Medical Discovery is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, such as consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, long-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that, but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

SANTA ANA POSTOFFICE IS SHOVED UP NOTCH BY INCREASED POSTAL RECEIPTS

The postal receipts for the Santa Ana post office for March, 1910, were $2,335.37. The receipts for March, 1909, were $1,978.58, showing an increase of $356.79, or over eighteen per cent., for 1910 over the corresponding month of 1909.

For the year ending March 31, 1910, the receipts were $26,390.21, as against $23,149.70 for the year ending Mar. 31, 1909, showing a gain of $3,250.51. The receipts this year will raise the office another grade, the figure necessary for advancement being $24,000, which it will be seen was exceeded by over $2300. The next grade will be reached at $30,000, which is very likely to be realized this year if the present ratio of increase continues.

New Packing House

Orange News: George S. Harper of Orange, and the Randolph Fruit Company of Los Angeles, have formed a packing house in the Placentia district, on the new Fullerton-Richfield cut-off of the Santa Fe.

The house will be located in the rich orange district between Richfield and Placentia about three and one-half miles from Fullerton. Its plans are not yet prepared, but it is intended to be large enough to handle three hundred cars of fruit during the season. The house will be finished by June 1, in time to receive the Valencia crop. It is the first one to be built on the new line, and has secured a choice location.

Mr. Harper, although associated with the Randolph Fruit Company at the Placentia house, will continue to conduct his own house here independently and under personal supervision as usual.

FOREVER ENDS INDIGESTION

No Heartburn, Gas, Headache
or Dyspepsia Five Minutes Later

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure almost any chronic case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble.

That Bakersfield Trip

For the benefit of the auto traveling public we will give here an account of the recent trip to Bakersfield made by W. W. Reed and G. A. Parker and their families in a four-cylinder Reo.

They left Santa Ana at 8 a. m. on March 7th, arrived at Los Angeles at 10 a. m.; left Los Angeles at 12 m. and arrived at Lebeck, 100 miles from Los Angeles at 6:30 p. m., here they remained over night. EIGHTY-EIGHT YEARS OF AGE

Dr. Rowan Getting Well Along in Years—Ranchers Are Busy

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, April 4.—Dr. Rowan, after a sojourn of a couple of weeks in the Santa Ana hospital, is back at "dear old San Juan." A few days ago Dr. Rowan's eighty-eighth birthday was celebrated at the home of J. A. Buckingham in Santa Ana. The old-time doctor visited the Santa Ana valley before there was a town of Santa Ana, when mustard and cactus held sway. The summer he passed through a fire had licked off the dry mustard, and there was no more desolate place on earth than the region where now are thousands of thriving ranches and happy people.

The town presents a dull appearance. Nothing shows of a thunderbolt would wake her up, but the country is very much alive. The farmers are smiling over the bright prospects for a crop since the late rains.

John Landell is busy fixing up the roads, putting in new culverts.

The French colony is still improving their properties in the most substantial way, making the outlook for that part of the valley the brightest in many a decade.

E. R. Forster, proprietor of the Hot Springs, is busy improving the Hot Springs camping grounds, renovating the place—one of the most popular resorts in the county.

The horticulturists are busy budding and transplanting ornamental and walnut trees and beautifying their homes. Father Quetu is improving the mission grounds to restore them to their original beauty and to rescue the buildings from decay.

A mild epidemic of measles has visited nearly every family in San Juan, but no deaths are recorded up to date.

HAVE FORMED OIL COMPANY

Anaheim Men Putting Down Hole in Coalinga Field—Sales Reported

ANAHEIM, April 3.—William Hall, F. W. Fleishman, John Ziegler and John Walls of this city and several Fullerton parties have formed a company and purchased 160 acres of oil land in the Coalinga district. A well has been sunk on the property to a depth of 417 feet and drilling will be resumed at an early date.

Otto Storm and F. C. Spencer were elected high school trustees and W. H. Chambers, grammar school trustee.

John Walls has purchased from A. S. Bradford the old Spake property at the corner of Broadway and Olive streets for $4500.

S. Hayden has sold his thirteen-acre place on South Los Angeles street to Joseph Fiscus for $12,000. The property is improved, being set in walnuts. The sale was made by the Orange County Realty company.

Mrs. William Falkenstein and son, Stanley, have returned from a ten days' visit with relatives at Lancaster.

The marriage of N. W. Rorden and Catherine Dyckhoff is announced. Both are residents of Anaheim.

The following realty deals were made last week: James Cowmen to Mr. Unger, seventeen-acre improved ranch northwest of town, $10,000; E. J. Maack to Mr. Burne, ten acres on corner of Sycamore and East streets, $15,000; Mr. Unger to Mr. Breske, five acres at the corner of West and North streets, $5000. The sales were made by Resh & Co.

ENGLISH COMPANIES CUT THE PRICES ON LIGHT

Charge Less Than Quarter of Old Prices for Electric Lights Under New System of Heat Storage

Washington Post: The wonderful in electricity has become so common as to cease to be wonderful. A revolution in the production of current has been awaiting Edison's threatened storage battery for years—and is still waiting. Meanwhile the problem of storing energy has been attacked from another angle in England and with such amazing success that British electric light companies are making prices for electric light today at less than a quarter of what they charged three months ago, and consider the low-priced current more profitable than the old method of charging.

All this has been brought about by a system of heat storage, which is first cousin to the storage battery. The new system is, like many revolutionary ideas, the result of chance, and to understand its great advantages it is necessary to know something of the principles of producing electricity.

Since electricity is an instantaneous product (that is, it must be used the instant it is produced,) it is necessary for all lighting plants to have sufficient machinery to meet the greatest demand for current at any one instant. The greatest demand is at present about four or five times the average demand for current. It usually comes in the afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock, when all the manufacturers are using power, when all the office buildings are lighted, when all the factories light up for the last hour's work, when all the residence lighting begins, and when the street lights are turned on.

Wide Variation in Demand
It is easy to see that there is a wide variation in the demand on the power house. From midnight to morning there is no demand save for street lamps, and comparatively few other lights in restaurants and other all-night institutions. In the morning these lights go out and the demand on the power house sometimes drops for a half hour or so until the manufacturers begin to start their motors. At noon, during the lunch hour, the demand drops to its lowest point, when there is no lighting and no power demanded. At 4 o'clock there is a rapid increase in demand, so that in an hour the power house must rise from a comparatively small supply to its greatest output, which continues not more than two hours.

This maximum output is called the "peak," because it is indicated by a peak on the chart which records the consumption of current at any given period during the day. The "peak load" has been the principle factor in keeping up the price of electricity, and efforts have been made for years to reduce the "peak" or bring up the average consumption to more nearly equal the peak.

Edison has been working for a long time to perfect a storage battery which will enable a power house to store current during its low demand periods so that it may be turned into the mains when the peak comes on. Such a battery would cut down the cost of machinery in the power house, for now it is necessary to maintain generators which are only in use an hour or so a day. So far no economical method of storing current has been devised.

New Idea of Storing Heat
Realizing the difficulty of perfecting an apparatus for storing electricity, G. G. Bell, a London engineer, conceived the novel idea of storing heat. Electricity has been recognized as the ideal heating element, but no method of utilizing it economically had been devised until Mr. Bell, who is a member of the British Institute of Electrical Engineers, perfected his system.

Briefly, Mr. Bell proposes to supply a house with a device which will consume an equal amount of current during the whole 24 hours, thus more than quadrupling the efficiency of the machinery in the power house by making it produce useful current all the time instead of having a large amount of equipment idle save during an hour or two a day.

The apparatus consists of an iron block some 18 inches high and a foot in diameter. The block is incased in magnesite, so that no heat escapes. In the center of the block is placed a removable heating unit in several sections. When current is turned in to the heating unit the iron block is raised to a temperature of 600 or 700 degrees Fahrenheit in a few hours, and will remain heated almost indefinitely, except for what is used.

The heater itself serves for a variety of purposes. In its original form it was designed for hot water alone. Its present development not only does away with tanks and kettles, but provides hot air, steam, or hot water for heating with an undreamed of saving of space, and provides unlimited heat for cooking.

Hot Water Always on Tap
Boiling water is instantaneously on tap day or night, even though all the current may be in use at the time for lighting. Mr. Bell's system does away with storage of hot water. Instead an iron coil is cast inside the metal block. As the block is at a normal temperature of 600 degrees, this coil is full of superheated steam. The steam is regulated so that a small or great quantity may be introduced into the water pipe, giving, instantaneously, water at any desired temperature.

Good Roads of Sawdust
Making good roads with sawdust is being practiced in a number of localities in the South. Two ridges of earth are thrown up (a road machine being required to do the work) at a certain width from each other, the space between being filled with a six-inch bed of sawdust. Dirt is then mixed with the sawdust, and it is claimed that heavily loaded vehicles in passing over this kind of a road make no impression upon it. It is estimated that the cost of building is about $250 per mile.

ONCE MORE MR. MELROSE'S RECORD.

The Register has no quarrel with the Hon. Richard Melrose of Anaheim. He is an able lawyer, a good citizen, and, on the whole, he made a good record in the legislature. When this paper published, a short time ago, an article from its Los Angeles correspondent purporting to give the legislative records of Southern California members it did so simply and solely in the line of its duty and business of giving its readers interesting and instructive information — published the news.

In this article (based upon Franklin Hitchborn's history of the legislature) appeared the following statement concerning Mr. Melrose:

"Melrose of Orange is on record seven times for and four times against reform, the latter being on the amendments striking from the Sanford resolution the request for a federal line of steamers; the Leeds amendment to the direct primary; denying the party circle bill second reading; and vote on non-partisan judiciary bill."

This was construed and characterized by the Anaheim Gazette as "an attack on Mr. Melrose," although, as may be seen, that gentlemen is given credit for seven "right" votes and charged with only four "wrong" votes.

The Register promptly and properly published, in its editorial columns, the Gazette's defense of Mr. Melrose, including its strenuous denial of a part of the record as given by Hitchborn and quoted by our correspondent.

But just to keep the record straight let us go a little further.

The statement that Melrose voted for "the amendments striking from the Sanford resolution the request for a federal line of steamers," the Gazette declares to be false. If the Gazette will refer to the Assembly Journal of February 18, page 777, it will find that Mr. Melrose did vote as the Register's correspondent stated Hitchborn's history said he voted. HIS AFFIRMATIVE VOTE WAS ON THE MOTION TO STRIKE FROM THE SANFORD RESOLUTION THOSE SECTIONS WHICH REFERRED TO COMMISSIONER BRISTOW'S REPORT RECOMMENDING THAT THE GOVERNMENT STEAMSHIP LINE BE ESTABLISHED, AND CRITICIZING THE COMBINATIONS MADE BETWEEN THE SEVERAL TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES.

If the Assembly Journal is in error, or if Mr. Melrose didn't know what he voted for, or if there be a mistake of any kind in this matter, the columns of the Register are open to Mr. Melrose to explain or correct.

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

In an address before the Ohio Association of Washington, President Taft undertakes to account for the fact that the east exercises so much more influence in congress than the west. He attributes it to the policy followed in the east of keeping a good man in congress when they get one, until he becomes proficient as a legislator. A possible inference from this is that the west reverses this policy, to-wit, when it gets a poor representative in congress it keeps him there, and there is no doubt something in this. At least it is not far from the truth so far as this state is concerned. We have plenty of congressional timber that is sound all through, but we have not been in the habit of sending it to Washington. In fact we have not heretofore had much to say as to who should constitute our congressional delegation. That duty has as a rule been attended to for us by the machine that was set up by and for the private interests that have need of congressmen for the furthering of their plans. Now, however, the machine has lost some of its gearing and cannot turn out congressmen, governors and the like with its old-time facility. There is a chance given the voters to have their say, and it is hoped that they will improve the opportunity. If hereafter our officers, national, state and local, are not of the best it will be our own fault. If we see to it that we are properly represented at Washington there will be less occasion for complaint that the east dominates in our national legislature.

PAULHAN IS PEEVED.

After all the fuss and uproar made over Paulhan for his performances at our aviation meet he goes home to France and tells them that we have no enthusiasm. "The Americans," he informs his countrymen, "were unmoved at his most daring feats." Well it is true that we are not French and perhaps have not attained that perfection in demonstration that he is used to, but we did the best we could, and that, with the big wad he took away with him, will have to satisfy the little fellow, as it is all he will get from this neck of the woods. Paulhan is not the only high flyer after all, and besides there are other things besides flying, and a people like us, who have a surfeit of wonders right at home and all the time, cannot be expected to throw fits for every foreigner who comes over and does some things a little extra.

UP TO MR. COOK NOW.

Explorer Cook, having arrived in New York, is in a position to sell interviews to the morning papers, or perhaps go on the lecture platform. It would be interesting, you see, to learn just how he did not discover the north pole. Also if he would tell how he was enabled to fool the University of Copenhagen and get the loyal support of nine-tenths of the papers of this country it would afford many good cues to the politicians. Or, is it possible that the doctor still has something up his sleeve concerning the north pole episode? Some people profess to think so, but if he has the first thing he will have to do this time will be to produce his "date," and just any old date won't do—it will have to be something distinctly new and well attested.

SURE WE CAN SCRAP.

A French admiral is the one who now holds the center of the stage as a prophet concerning a war between the United States and Japan. He has an idea that Japan will force the issue by resenting our friendly relations with China. The Japs have had chips on their shoulders ever since we helped them out of their war with Russia, and evidently attribute our action in this matter to timidity. If such is their idea, they are liable to meet with a sad disillusionment sooner or later. This country is opposed to war and will never resort to it until all other means fail, but we can fight a little when we have to, and if we have to fight Japan that cocky little kingdom will know it has been in a fight before it is over with.

A LITTLE MIXED.

Andrew Carnegie can hardly expect the Lincoln-Roosevelt League to agree with him in his opinion of Speaker Cannon, whom he says looks and acts more like Lincoln than any other man he ever knew. How would it look, for instance, to change the name of the organization to the Lincoln-Cannon League? It is safe to say that some people would throw all kinds of fits over it, for if there is any one man who is obnoxious to the leaders of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, that man is Uncle Joe Cannon. Neither could his name be asso-dated with Roosevelt, for they are as far apart in the matter of policy as any two Republicans could well be. Mr. Carnegie has some original ideas at least.

The Berkeley horticulturist who has by a system of grafting produced an edible fruit on the rose bush will, if he succeeds in introducing his improvement, relegate the rose bush as an ornamental shrub to obscurity. The tomato was once raised as an ornament under the name of "love apple," but as soon as it became valuable it ceased to be ornamental. So it will be with the rose bush. Though "the rose would smell as sweet under any other name," it will not be as beautiful in our eyes when it takes to bearing fruit fit for the table.

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, April 4.—"You see this broad, smooth roadway guiltless of vehicle of any sort? Well, that represents the congressman's fear of his constituents."

Representative McCredie of Washington, plump, ruddy faced, and just at that moment perspiring freely, paused in his gassy walk through the subway leading to the House of office building from the capitol, and leaned against one of the iron posts for breath. The posts separate the sidewalk of the subway from the sixteen or eighteen foot roadway.

"Over on the Senate side, where there is no fear of an economically inclined constituency," continued Judge McCredie as he resumed his walk, "they have automobiles to take the senators to and from their offices and the capitol. They make the trip in comfort, with speed, and in a style befitting the dignity of their office. But there are no autos for us. I suppose that one reason they do not think we need automobiles through our subway is that we are younger men as a rule, than the senators, and being spry, can walk. Oh, walking does us good, of course, but every time I make the trip either way I feel like getting up in the House and demanding an auto from the appropriations committee."

"We would have had the autos long ago if we were not all cowards. But there isn't one man in a hundred in the House that would dare to vote for a bill providing automobiles for this subway. Every member would be dead sure that the vote would bob up to plague him at the next campaign. It would be a fine slogan for the opposing candidate to cry: 'Ah, ha, Congressman Smith is too lazy to walk from his office to the capitol, a distance of two blocks. Out home here he is not too good to walk, but as soon as he gets to Washington he begins to ride around in automobiles at the people's expense.'"

"That may sound ridiculous to the ordinary citizen, but it is not at all overdrawn. Many a congressman has lost his official head with less said against him."

The pieces of pie and the glasses of milk are growing smaller in the House restaurant at the capitol. This discouraging fact has been gradually dawning upon the congressmen for some time, and unless the shrinkage stops at once, the lucky individual who is just now conducting the eating house will find himself facing an investigation.

"This piece of pumpkin pie, made of squash, is just one quarter smaller than the ten cent piece I used to buy here two years ago," remarked one of the Western representatives as he surveyed the little three cornered slab. "Considering the fact that the restaurant man gets his rent, his heat and light free, I do not think that he ought to sting us quite so hard. He charges twenty-five cents for a turkey or chicken sandwich, twenty-five cents for a bowl of soup, fifty cents for a piece of fish no longer than the palm of your hand, and when you buy a steak you are expected to mortgage your home to pay for it."

"Senator McCumber was over here the other day and had a steak. When he received his bill he did a little figuring on the menu card, and announced that if the whole of an ordinary steer was sold at the rate that steak brought, the animal would net $4000. Now I call that going some."

Over in the Senate restaurant, where the same scale of prices prevails, the senators have compelled the restaurant manager to place a "No tipping" line on all the menu cards. Consequently the cards are very hard to get nowadays, and if a guest insists on having one before he orders, the waiter snatches it and buries it under the tablecloth before the next customer sits down. The sign on the cards does not prevent the waiters from grabbing all the tips they can get, nor does it keep them from neglecting a patron the next day if he has forgotten to "come across" on the previous visit.

Sailors of the navy will be deprived of the source of their most cherished souvenirs, if the wreck of the Maine is removed from Havana harbor. A bill to raise the wreck or to blow it up has passed the House and is pending in the Senate. A great mass of tangled and battered steel, extending perhaps 10 feet above the surface marks the resting place of the Maine. When American warships visit the harbor it is this monument to one of the great disasters of the navy and the tomb of scores of their comrades whose bodies were never recovered that interests them more than any of the sights ashore.

A favorite pastime for the sailors is to visit the wreck in small boats and with hammer and chisel get chips of steel to be carried away as mementos. With a fleet in the harbor it is not unusual to see and hear a dozen sturdy young men in white uniforms laboring to get their souvenirs.

Reasons given for removing the Maine are that the wreck is a menace to navigation and that it is the property of the United States to recover the bodies of the men who lost their lives in the government service. The Spaniards have contended ever since the blowing up of the Maine that this government would never raise the wreck, because, they said, it would show that the ship was destroyed by an explosion from within. As the charge that the vessel was blown up by a Spanish torpedo was one of the causes of the war, the Spaniards insist that the United States fears a disclosure that it did Spain an injustice in basing hostilities even partly on the destruction of the battleship. Investigation made by a board of American experts, however, resulted in a decision that the Maine was blown up from the outside.

CATARRH CURED

Accept Our Advice and Try This Remedy at Our Risk

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane is, one may say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhial poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature falls to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been afflicted ceases to perform its proper function, as nature intended it should. The result is, complication upon complication, which may lead to other even more serious afflictions.

We honestly believe Rexall Muc-Tone will do wonders toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of catarrh, and his great success with this remedy was an enviable one.

We want you if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form, to give Rexall Muc-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistence for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. SPORTSMAN and TELEPHONE

EVERY time a man wants to get away from all connection with the busy world, the telephone is an important helper.

The local service is useful in arranging his affairs at home, and the long distance service of the Bell system helps him to decide where to go and what to take.

By means of his Bell Telephone he can find out whether the fish are biting or the birds are flying, and whether guides or horses can be secured.

After he has been out awhile, if he wants to get word from the city, the nearest Bell Telephone is a friend in need.

Elizabeth's Guild to Give Play

The young ladies of St. Elizabeth's Guild, who so successfully gave a farce last year, are planning to give a dramatic production of more ambitious nature. They will stage a three act comedy in Spurgeon's Hall on Monday night, April 11, for the benefit of Guild Hall. There will be fourteen or fifteen young ladies in the cast, and rehearsals have brought them up to a high degree of efficiency.

Shower for Miss Heathman

In honor of Miss Vera Heathman, one of the spring brides-to-be, a linen shower was given Saturday afternoon at the Bush street home of Mrs. Jas. Harrison, the hostesses being Miss Harrison, Mrs. G. W. Finch of Fullerton, and Miss Gladys Harrison. The guests were the members of the Travelers' Section to which Miss Heathman belongs, also a few other of her close friends.

Many dainty gifts were received by the guest of honor, while good wishes galore were showered upon her. An impromptu "biography," dating from the day Miss Heathman met her betrothed, afforded a good bit of amusement.

The house decorations were of cupids, red hearts and fragrant flowers. Amid such a romantic environment the afternoon passed away most agreeably and was closed with the serving of dainty refreshments.

A short musical program was given during the afternoon, Misses Velda Medlock and Kassa Bailey playing piano numbers, and Misses Elsie Harrison and Georgia Barnes singing solos.

Fred Forgy received the guests at the door and little Dorothy Forgy was the bearer of the gifts to Miss Heathman.

Miss Austin Was Hostess

On Saturday night a reunion of members of the high school was afforded by a delightful party given by Miss Helen Austin at the Austin home, 319 Chestnut street. Roses were used in the simple decorations of the parlors and a color scheme of orange and white beautified the tables, where delectable refreshments were served, piansies being used.

A game much in vogue in Pomona was introduced at this party, progressive Pomona dice and it proved highly amusing. First prize winners were Miss Zoe Vanderlip and George Barto, and the consolations went to Miss Lillian Rutherford.

Those present were Misses Lillian Rutherford, Marguerite West, Dorothy Staples, Zoe Vanderlip, Hazel Rowley, Margaret Gallup, Leslie Roberts, Edith Tidball, Edith Patton; Messrs. Howard Hankey, Walter Heninger, Will Smart, Harry Mills, George Barto, Robt. McGee, Pope Hill, Albert Hill, Benton Ble, Clarence Tedford.

Dinner Party

"Auld Lang Syne" was recalled on last Saturday night, when there gathered about a handsomely appointed table at the Mills-Winbigler home a number of old-time friends of Dr. and Mrs. Mills to help the doctor celebrate his birthday. As Mrs. Mills' birthday and a wedding anniversary were hovering about in just past dates, Saturday night's dinner may be said to have really been a sort of triple celebration.

Red, red roses gave an added note of cheerfulness to the already cheerful event, the company being in a mood to match the joyous tints of the flowers. Mit Phillips' humor was at its best, and many jolly reminiscences came to mind as he and the others, who knew Santa Ana in its young and giddy days, talked them over. The five-course dinner was served at 7 o'clock, with Mr. and Mrs. Winbigler serving. The dinner was followed by an evening of music and conversation, and those, besides Dr. and Mrs. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Winbigler, who were present were Dr. and Mrs. Medlock, Dr. and Mrs. Menges, Mr. and Mrs. Nick, Mr. and Mrs. French, Mr. and Mrs. Mit Phillips, Mr. Scott and sister, Mrs. Hammond. A handsome cut glass bowl was presented by the company to Dr. and Mrs. Mills, Mr. Scott being the spokesman.

THE JEWISH SABBATH.

Its Influence on the Habits of the Hebrew Children.

The Hebrew Sabbath, including its complicated preparations, is rich and impressive material for a child's imagination. On Thursday evening the mother already prepares dough, goes to market, cleans the fish, etc., says the American Hebrew.

In the morning comes the baking of "chales" (bread). How bewitching for a child to watch the mother making different shapes of dough, smearing it with egg and decorating it with braids of different shapes and forms. A Jewish child gets the first lesson in modeling by making make believe "chales."

In the evening the mother prepares to meet the Sabbath. The child participates in the household occupations and therefore gets habits of industry, order and regard for the rights and ideas of others and the fundamental habit of subordinating his activities to the general interest of the household.

This is especially true in regard to Jewish households where everything seems to be prescribed by law. Before darkness sets in on Friday the housewife lights in the dining room extra candles or a special lamp in honor of Sabbath and reads the blessing.

Quite often a child not yet able to talk will cover its face with its little palms, imitating the weeping of the devoted mother. The remaining of the synagogue, the appreciative greeting "Good Sabbath," the kiddush, the blessing over wine, the special menu and the holiday spirit of all who participate have undoubtedly a soothing, beneficent influence upon the child. After supper the time is spent in resting.

FIRST SHAPE OF EELS.

Strait of Messina Revealed Mystery of the Snake-like Fish.

In the strait of Messina are channels of immense depth, through which a wild tide surges, and owing probably to irregularities at the bottom there are whirling eddies which have the effect of bringing up from the depths below many marine creatures which are rarely seen except in the deep sea trawls.

It was here that the larval form of a fresh water eel was first discovered, an incident which threw a blaze of light on the life history of a very mysterious fish.

All kinds of theories had been given forth with regard to the propagation of the eel. Some naturalists declared they bred in fresh water, others that they visited the estuaries for spawning purposes, but thanks to the discovery of Messina and later captures of the eel in its larval form it is practically certain that after mature eels drop down our rivers in autumn they lie them to exceedingly deep water in the sea and there deposit their eggs.

From the egg comes a little ribbon shaped creature, the larval form. In due course this changes into an eel of still smaller size, strange to say, and these small eels or eivers afterward ascend our rivers and there remain until they reach maturity, when they in their turn descend to the sea and history is repeated.—London Telegraph.

Horses in Literature.

In sacred writ it was deemed worthy of record that Solomon imported horses from Egypt, while the description of the war steed in Job is accounted one of the finest parts of that piece of literature. In Greek myth and English satire the qualities ascribed to Centaur and the Houyhnhnms testify sufficiently to the high regard in which the horse has ever been held. The name of Bucephalus is inseparably coupled with that of Alexander. At least one Roman emperor had divine honors paid to his charger. Who can picture Don Quixote sleeping on his armor without seeing the princely Rosinante tethered under the dewy night? And the stirring incidents of John Gilpin's ride conclusively proved that the racing blood of far removed equine ancestors was not entirely wanting in the degenerate descendant.

Got All He Asked For.

Another "meanest man" has been found. He lives in the city and conducts a thriving business. The other day a seedy individual approached him and said: "Say, mister, I'm hungry and would like to get a nickel to get a cup of coffee and a roll. I have four pennies and only need one more. Please give me a penny."

The man after searching himself said: "I haven't got a penny. All I have is a nickel. Give me your four cents in change, and I will give you the nickel."

The beggar requests that his name be not mentioned in connection with the item.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Doubtful Praise.

Stippler—Did Miss Kittle admire your paintings? Dobber—I don't know. Stippler—What did she say about them? Dobber—That she could feel that I put a great deal of myself into my work. Stippler—Well, that's praise. Dobber—Is it? The picture I showed her was "Calves in the Meadow."—New York Journal.

Music Lovers.

"How do you know those people are sincere lovers of music?" "By the fact," replied Miss Cayenna. "that they compelled their youngest boy to stop trying to learn to play the piano."—Washington Star.

Soup Marks.

Guest—You called "Minna." Is that the blond, the dark one or the old woman? Walter—How do you know our books? Guest—By the soup.—Meggen-lorfer Blatter.

SANTA ANA

ADMITS THREE AS CITIZENS

Pearson, Bonosky and Strehle
Are Now Fully Naturalized

Orange county gained three new citizens this morning when Judge West granted final naturalization to Thomas Mark Pearson of Santa Ana, William Fred Bonosky of Anaheim and August Emil Strehle of Anaheim.

Pearson was born in Canada in 1857 and came to the United States seven years ago. He is a carpenter. C. W. McNaught and J. S. Kohler appeared as his witnesses, having known him for more than five years.

Bonosky, a fumigator, was born in Germany in 1870 and arrived in this country in 1890. R. E. Coffman and J. J. Schneider were his witnesses.

Strehle had Henry M. Adams and Richard Melrose as his witnesses. Strehle was born in Germany in 1856, and came to America in 1901.

The applicants were successful in passing the verbal examination given by Judge West.

Providing Salt for Pigeons
On one of the largest squab plants in this country salt is furnished the breeders by dipping the small sacks in water and then allowing them to dry until they become hard and firm. These are then placed in the lofts and the pigeons pick out the salt through the sacks. Never give common granulated salt loose.

ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY

Howard Was a Romancer and Prolific Reader of Wild
Literature

Frank Howard, concerning whose shooting near Whittier last Thursday there is considerable mystery, is reported as well on the road to recovery.

Sheriff Hammel of Los Angeles is at a loss to understand the story told by the young man. Part of it may be true and part of it false.

Howard was a reader of cheap literature, the wilder the better, and he was fond of making people believe he traveled in gun-fighting company. Those who knew him best in the Old Newport vicinity, where he worked, considered that he was given to romancing of his cowboy career. He at one time said a brother was mixed up in horse stealing, and because Frank knew of it the brother took a shot at him.

That a horse stolen from Henry Friend at Fairview was found in Howard's possession twenty-four hours after it was taken, that Howard knew the horse well and was cowboy enough to know one horse from another indicate that he was not in possession of the Friend horse innocently. On the other hand, when he was caught with the horse he told Friend a story of having bought the animal from another man, and asked for a chance to go out and find the man. A few hours later occurred the shooting at Whittier. Where Howard got the horse he rode at that time is still a mystery. He declared the man who shot him was the man he bought the Friend horse from. Henry Friend can hardly believe that Howard could have failed to recognize the horse.

Since Howard has begun to get better, he has closed his mouth, and it is little information indeed that can be had from him. Henry Friend visited him yesterday. Howard will be out of the hospital in about two weeks. He was shot through the stomach.

Whitewashing the Houses
Nothing is better for poultry buildings from a sanitary point of view than a good coat of whitewash. Especially is this true when getting the poultry houses ready for the winter. All may not be aware there is quite a science in whitewashing. There are different kinds, and each is adapted for a different use.

SAN DIEGO FIRE BUG MAKES DEMAND FOR $147

SAN DIEGO, April 4.—In a lengthy letter to the local newspapers today the firebug that has started several fires here and has been terrorizing residents of this city for the last nine months, threatens to burn half the city unless $147 are deposited in a certain spot by the police. The writing in the letter is identical with that in letters received by local ministers before attempts were made to burn their churches. He stated that hereafter he will tie a red ribbon to the houses that he fires, in order to prove his handiwork. Scores of officers and detectives have been detailed to catch the culprit. The police believe he means what he says, their theory being that he is demented.

Education Versus Tuberculosis
"The latest and the most helpful note sounded in the civilized world's campaign against the White Plague, is the education of American school children to avoid tuberculosis," asserts the Woman's Home Companion for April.

"The campaign itself may be described as a dual movement. On the one hand are arrayed notification, registration and segregation of those tainted with tuberculosis; and on the other, education and prevention for the untainted. The greatest of these is the education of the rising generation, who, through this means, may live to see tuberculosis stamped out of all civilized countries."

"So, while municipal governments and private charities are weeding out cases which would spread the disease, supplying outdoor sanatoria for the curable and refuges for the incurable, half a dozen powerful agencies are pushing the sane and sensible campaign of education among school children, with a view to eliminating the disease entirely in the generations to come."

"THE ONE PREVENTIVE OF TUBERCULOSIS IS RIGHT LIVING. THE PLACE TO TEACH RIGHT LIVING IS IN THE SCHOOLS."

"Twenty million children attend school in the United States. Twenty million children are well worth saving physically as well as mentally. And if twenty million children of this generation are taught how NOT TO HAVE tuberculosis, the disease will not exist for the next generation."

"The most active agencies at work in large cities for the salvation of the children are, the board of health, the Public Schools' Athletic League co-operating with the board of education, the playground association and private or organized charities like the Association for the Control and Prevention of Tuberculosis. When these four agencies work in harmony results are immediate, electric."

Inoculation of Alfalfa
The results from more than 100 cooperative experiments in growing alfalfa, located in over one-half of the counties of New York state, indicate that where neither the lime nor inoculation is applied the chance of a successful crop is not more than 20 per cent, or one chance in five.
